SKINFUSE®

Microneedling Post Care Simplified.

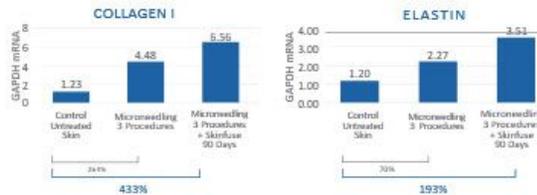

Many needling experts would agree that how you take care of the skin post-needling is just as important as the needling procedure itself. To obtain the best results and to ensure proper skin care following the procedure, Bellus Medical developed the Skinfuse® Post Microneedling Protocol. This scientifically advanced system contains a line of products formulated to support the skin after the microneedling procedure.

In a recent study, findings show that treatment with both microneedling (3 procedures) and Skinfuse post-procedure care resulted in a 433% increase in collagen I gene expression and a 193% increase in elastin gene expression 3 weeks after the final treatment, a synergistic result! Our focus is the right ingredients, at the right time, for the right procedure.
